Physical Development: Experiment different ways of moving

Communication and Language: Listens with interest to the noises adults make when they read stories.

Home learning activities

Activity 1: Making your own teddy bear snack

Making your own teddy bear snack with your child. Using bread, fruits, raisins and any other topping your child likes. Let your child watch as you chop or peel the fruit talk through what you are doing to your baby. Using a child friendly knife and with adult supervision, can your toddler help you to chop the banana and spread the butter on to the bread? Allow your child to place the fruits on to the bread talk to your child about the texture and the smell of the fruits as they handle them. Why not count how many eyes, noses and ears does your bear have? This activity is a great way to develop your child's eye and hand coordination, fine motor skills and sensory experience. Don't forget to wash your child's hands before preparing your teddy snack! Why not sing "This is the way we wash our hands" with your baby or toddler as they wash their hands?

Here is the Video of Nosheen making the yummy teddy bear snack and Cristal singing "This is the way we wash our hands."

Activity 2: We're going on a bear hunt

Come along on a bear hunt with Nosheen, Cristal and our teddy friend don't forget to bring your binoculars you made last week. To recreate the sounds from the story we used different household materials such as foil to make sound of snow storm, tray of mud and mix in some water to make the oozy mud and for the long wavy grass we used green material you could also use green shredded paper that would also work as great. This activity is a great way to develop your child imagination skills through pretend play. <https://www.sirjohncassprimary.org/childrens-centre.html>

Activity 3: Music and Movement shake your sillies out

Grab a scarf and come and join in with Nosheen and Cristal shaking your sillies out mummy, daddy and siblings could also join in to.
